RUEF, SCHMITZ AND THE INDICTMENTS

French Restaurants Are Source of Great Revenue

FEE OF $28,000
RECEIVED BY BOSS

REAL TEST OF VOTERS CAME IN RECENT ELECTION OF THE JUDGES OF SUPERIOR COURT

In all probability the indictments of Abe Ruef and Mayor Schmitz, which were reported yesterday by cable, were in connection with the French restaurant scandal, which has been closely followed by Deputy County Attorney Heney of land fraud case fame, who is now cleaning up some of the political sewers of San Francisco.

It is known that one of the first matters to be submitted to the jury concerned Ruef's connection with the French restaurants. This is regarded as one of the cases in which Ruef has laid himself open to direct attack. Ruef has admitted that he accepted a fee from the restaurants. In addition to his testimony it will be necessary only to prove that a conspiracy existed. The testimony of Thomas Roagan will be important in this particular.

It will be shown that the Mayor's crusade against the French restaurants was not in good faith. In fact an effort will be made to prove that the crusade originated in the brain of the boss. The Mayor suddenly came to the conclusion that the restaurants were immoral. The places, which had inspired poets from afar, after an unmolested existence of several years, found themselves unexpectedly under the ban of the Mayor. The Jackson street resort was all right in the eyes of Schmitz, but the French restaurants with their rooms overhead became intolerable in the righteous sight of his Honor.

The avenue of attack was naturally the Police Commission. The Commissioners were told that the places were evil and should be suppressed. The commission, therefore, decided that the liquor licenses under which these resorts operated should be revoked. A so-called "raid" was a necessary preliminary. The "raid," therefore, was made.

It was at this point that Ruef suddenly entered the case. He appeared as counsel for the restaurants. The Police Commissioners had been instructed by the Mayor to heed the words of "Eminent Counsel" and to act with discretion. Ruef suggested that registers such as are used in hotels be placed in the restaurants. This, it was urged, would make them righteous in every respect. It was accordingly so ordered. Ruef pocketed his fee of $28,000 and the incident was declared closed.

The charge against Ruef in this case will be conspiracy to extort. It will be alleged that the threat to revoke the license was a mere subterfuge by which Ruef could collect a handsome fee.

In the course of the civic housecleaning now in progress in San Francisco certain matters may be given attention which on the face of things promise a good field for inquiry. The slot machines and the chimney inspection come under this head. In the case of the slot machines there has been no dearth of rumors. It has been stated that the administration played fast and loose in cases where the machines were concerned. This subject came before the Andrews Grand Jury, but since that time facts have developed which make a new inquiry more fruitful of results.

The chimney inspection involves a sum of about $20,000. Just what part of this went for salaries and what portion went into the public treasury will be fully determined. It has been charged that the salaries paid were excessive for the work performed and that the entire sum derived from the inspection was eaten up in "expenses."

In an effort to locate all of the holdings of Schmitz and Ruef, the records of Los Angeles are being looked into. The trips of Ruef and the Mayor to the southern city, it is alleged, were

for the purpose of looking into the real estate market there. It is claimed that both the boss and the Mayor have put a good part of their San Francisco "earnings" into choice property in Los Angeles.

Only two pieces of San Francisco realty are assessed to the family of Mayor Schmitz, his new home at Vallejo and Steiner streets to himself, and his former home at Fillmore and Green streets to his wife.

With Ruef it is different. He is among the largest holders of property in San Francisco. He owns land in almost every section of the city. He has invested in the wholesale section, the retail district, Richmond, University Mound, South San Francisco and North Beach.

The real feeling of the people of San Francisco, since the exposures, was shown in the recent election, where the real fight was centralized on the candidates for Superior Judge. In this fight only one of the Ruef candidates, Judge Mogan, for many years a judge in the Police Court, was elected and he was the lowest of all the candidates, defeating Judge Hosmer by only 300 votes, while "Honest John" Coffey, who lead the ticket, was over 15,000 votes ahead of Mogan.

The fight was centered on the Superior Judges as it was Ruef's last hope that, through control of the courts, he might still be able to keep up his career. Judge Lawlor, who has always been an enemy of Ruefism, was elected and makes it certain that Mogan will not be selected as presiding judge.

Another important victory for clean government was the defeat of Judge Carroll Cook for Presiding Justice of the Court of Appeals. Cook has been on the Superior bench in San Francisco for many years, and has been so close to the City Hall crowd that every effort to defeat him was used and, it turned out, successfully. In these fights there were no party lines drawn but the men and their known feelings in regard to the divisions caused by the graft in city politics had their effect.

IMMIGRANTS ARRIVE

FROM JAPAN

ON SHIBATA MARU

The S. S. Shibata Maru, Captain J. W. Ekstrand arrived this morning from Kobe Japan with 201 Japanese immigrants for Hawaii. She has in addition a small cargo of mixed freight, amounting to only about 80 tons. It includes 80 tons of rice, 20 cases of dried fish, 12 cases of medicine, 50 cases of canned goods and some curios.

The Shibata Maru is one of the extra steamers put on temporarily by the Toyo Kisen Kaisha to relieve the congestion of Japanese immigrants caused by the Mongolian and Manchuria being off their regular runs. She comes assigned to T. H. Davies & Co. She left Kobe on November 3, and had a pleasant voyage of 13 days. Her movements after leaving Honolulu are not yet decided, but it is probable that she will return to Japan.

WAS MONGOLIA'S CAPTAIN

Captain John H. Rinder, formerly well known here as the commander of the liner Coptic, and later of the Mongolia, has been appointed assistant superintendent of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company, with headquarters in this city. Captain Rinder, after leaving the Mongolia, took command of the big steamer Minnesota of the James J. Hill line, running between Seattle and the Orient, and only lately left that service to return here and go into the employ of the Pacific Coast Steamship Company. He is regarded as an exceptionally talented master mariner, and his return to San Francisco is welcomed.—Chronicle.
